

REGENERATION AWARENESS SIGNAGE

DISTINCTIVE AREA LANDSCAPES

This project involves the production of clear, reusable signage to showcase and identify regeneration sites, educate people about the benefits of regeneration and to show people what a regeneration site actually looks like. The signage will be designed to be reusable so that they can be moved around to different locations as regeneration works are undertaken. They will not be interpretation signs but will be about awareness raising. This signage will give the local community the confidence that works are being undertaken to regenerate and will allow people to observe the progress of a site.

This project will revolve around the idea that we don't want a permanent fixture but we do want to showcase different sites on the bellarine. Some members of the community will not know where regeneration occurs and what it looks like. Multiple signs will be produced to match Ecological Vegetation Types like Coastal Moonah Woodlands, Grassy Woodlands and Coastal Saltmarsh.
