

TRAIN THE TRAINER

DISTINCTIVE AREA LANDSCAPES

This project aims to train local community groups and teachers about how to run environmental activities within their own organisations. This training will work collaboratively with organisations like the Marine and Freshwater Discovery Centre and will cover activities like rockpool rambles, mudflat meanders and beachcombs. Coastal Moonah Woodland monitoring will also be covered. This training will include content like; how to organise a community activity, how to stay safe and will cover educational content that is easy to remember and convey to a variety of audiences.

This training is for any teacher, community leader, youth leader or community group in the region. The aim is to train everyday citizens so that accurate and informative information can be disseminated from a larger group of people leading to better education outcomes overall.
