

Wetland Wonder Competition

Around Geelong and the Bellarine Peninsula, there are many beautiful wetlands that support threatened species, including 5 sites that are important across the globe. These are called Ramsar wetlands and hundreds of countries have agreed to protect them. To celebrate National Threatened Species Day on September the 7th, we are running a creative competition for people aged 6-12 years (with amazing prizes). You can either choose to colour in the wetland or create a model of a wetland or wetland species. Your model can be made using any materials (e.g. a cake, paper, leaves, fabric, clay, papier-mâché, anything!).

CATEGORIES

a) Most creative colouring in page

b) Most creative model of a wetland or wetland species

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

- 1 - Entries are limited to 1 per person for each category.
- 2 - Download the colouring in page and print off.
- 3 - Complete the colour in or create a model of a wetland or species.
- 4 - Take a high quality photo of your entry and send it to info@bcn.org.au
- 5 - Include the participants name, contact number, suburb and a parent/guardian's signature as consent.
- 6 - Winners will be announced via telephone on Monday the 7th of September and shared on social media. Prizes sent via post.

CLOSING DATE

5pm on Sunday the 6th of September 2020

For more information, click the topics below or email info@bcn.org.au

Ramsar wetlands

Local fauna

Local flora

